KITH & KIN

theatre collective

about us.

Meeting family and friends in the gray area.

Our mission at Kith & Kin Theatre Collective is to meaningfully engage with Milwaukee communities through relevant contemporary and classical programming that ranges from readings and workshops to full productions, opening opportunities of all sizes and commitment needs for all artists and audiences.

Our first unofficial production was an independent mounting of Things I Know to Be True by Andrew Bovell. Entirely crowd-funded, the show was met with critical and social success, and chairs were added at every performance to accommodate the overwhelming support from the community.

Now, we embark on our first full season under the Kith & Kin brand. Along with that comes the opportunity for comarketing and partnering with the businesses in our community - and we consider you to be a part of that!

our season.

Music & a Movie Series

Thursday, May 18th: Beetlejuice Thursday, June 8th: Hairspray Thursday, August 17th: La La Land

Location: Inspiration Studios Time: 7:30pm

A screening of a cult-classic turned musical accompanied with musical revue performances from local talent.

NEXT TO NORMAL

November 10-12, 17-19

Location: Interchange Theatre Co-Op

Time: 7:30pm Fridays and Saturdays, 2pm Sundays

Next to Normal, with book and lyrics by Brian Yorkey and music by Tom Kitt, explores how one suburban household copes with crisis and mental illness.

Dad's an architect; Mom rushes to pack lunches and pour cereal; their daughter and son are bright, wise-cracking teens, appearing to be a typical American family. And yet their lives are anything but normal because the mother has been battling manic depression for 16 years. Next to Normal takes audiences into the minds and hearts of each character, presenting their family's story with love, sympathy and heart.

HYPOTHETICALS, A World Premiere

April 12-14, 19-21

Location: Inspiration Studios

Time: 7:30pm Fridays and Saturdays, 2pm Sundays

Set in current-day Chicago, "Hypotheticals" is about a beautiful but misanthropic woman who kisses a stranger in an elevator on her way to psychotherapy. When the stranger turns out to be her new therapist, they're forced into a professional relationship where the intimate environment is as fertile for romantic tension as it is for personal growth—until the revelation of a mutual secret threatens to bind them together or tear them apart. In an age where up to 20% of the world's population is neurodivergent, "Hypotheticals" shatters stereotypes about neurodiversity and Autism, arguing that neurodivergent brains are not faulty, and that there's no wrong way to be human.
